ARCHITECTURAL products

When does paper applied to walls become something more than mere wallpaper? When it's the Pure Paper Color collection by Parisian designer Patrick Narguet. Composed of kraft and decorative dye-through papers, the melamine-coated product can be specified as 4-by-10-foot laminate sheets or laminated to an MDF or particleboard substrate. In 18 extra-matte colors, Pure has an unexpected sense of depth courtesy of gently embossed patterns derived from bricks, bark, scales, and the like. And, for the record, the panels can be applied to doors, furniture, and ceilings, too. ober-surfaces.com. circle 840 >
